MAYOR RUSSELL ANNOUNCES HIMSELF FOR RE-ELECTION

Hon. Thomas M. Russell Seeks To Be Returned to Office He Has Held During Past Four Years—Has Served City Well.

Mayor Thomas M. Russell today announced himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Mayor, the highest office within the gift of the people of Maysville. Mr. Russell appreciates the confidence reposed in him by the good people of Maysville during the past four years and is proud of the record his administration has made during such a strenuous period.

Mayor Russell has proven a splendid executive and his administration closes with many progressive steps to its credit despite the fact that during practically all of the term the World War had turned most matters up-side down. Maysville was always found in the fore front of all patriotic movements during the war period and Mayor Russell was always found ready and anxious to lend the city administration's facilities to every movement.

Because of the conditions existing during the war and the present reconstruction period, the administration was handicapped in accomplishing some of the progressive ideas previously planned and the Mayor is asking an opportunity to carry out his plans for Maysville through another administration.

Personally popular, unquestionably progressive and yet conservative enough to always protect the city's best interest, Mayor Russell's friends feel he deserves a re-election.

Wednesday, May eighteenth, will be American Legion Day in Maysville and officers and members of the Leslie H. Arthur Post are making extensive preparations for a big day.

This affair promises to be the biggest and best get-together meet the local Legion Post has ever had and every member should be in attendance to welcome these dignitaries of the organization.

JUDGE WHITAKER SEEKS RE-ELECTION TO BENCH

City Judge Formally Announces as a Candidate for Re-election to the Police Court Bench.

Judge John L. Whitaker today makes his formal announcement as a candidate for re-election to the office which he has held since the most of us were children. During his long term of office Judge Whitaker has become thoroughly acquainted with the manner of conducting a Police Court in a city like Maysville.

The Judge is a highly polished gentleman of the old school type and a lawyer of ability. No man is better known in Maysville than Judge Whitaker and nothing we could say could in the least advise the voters of Maysville of his qualities or fitness for the important office he has so long held.

In seeking re-election Judge Whitaker is making no promises but relying entirely upon his record in office.

The program will consist of music by the orchestra, short addresses by daughters and mothers, and some appropriate songs. You will miss a good time if you do not attend.

Never was there a girl like Mary—the girl who nearly lost a fortune because she loved her teacher. She was beautiful, was loved and loved, was the belle of her school, and was the heroine of more fanciful adventures than fell to the lot of many scores of other young women. BRACKEN WOMAN DIES OF INJURIES FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Steering Gear Breaks and Car Goes over Bank Between Falmouth and Augusta—Three Injured.

Augusta, Ky., May 4. — Mrs. Claude Glenn, thirty years old, died at her home near Berlin, this county, from injuries received in an automobile accident Monday morning.

Mrs. Glenn, in company with her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Charles Owens and the latter's son, James Courtney, who was driving, and John Clifton Field, were en route to Falmouth when the steering gear broke. The car went over a bank, turning over and landing on the bank of a creek. Mrs. Glenn was injured about the head, but was able to return to her home, after receiving medical attention at Falmouth, and her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Owens received a fracture of the wrist while her son was slightly injured about the chest. Mr. Field received a dislocated shoulder and a fractured rib.

Mrs. Glenn was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McAtee, Berlin, and, besides her husband, is survived by a son and a daughter.

Mrs. Glenn was a sister-in-law of Jesse Glenn, who was murdered in Bracken county a short time ago and for whose murder Thomas Marksberry is now serving a life term in the penitentiary.

DEFENDANTS WIN IN ROADWAY SUIT.

Judge Newell gave judgment for the defendants in the case of W. S. Osborne, et. als., vs. Davis Yates, et. als., in Circuit Court Wednesday. This case was begun Tuesday morning. A night session was held last night and thirty-odd witnesses testified. The case involved a roadway through a farm. Judge Newell dissolved the temporary injunction in the case and awarded the defendants a judgment.

DEATH ENDS LONG SUFFERING.

Edward Milton Nesbitt, eighteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nesbitt, died at the home of the parents at Maysville Tuesday night at 11:45 o'clock after a long illness of tuberculosis. The young man is survived by his parents, one brother and two sisters. Funeral will be held Thursday at 10 o'clock from the home and burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery.

MINISTER INVOLVED IN OIL SUITS

Well Known Methodist Minister Becomes Involved in Fleming County Oil Suits.

The Fleming Gazette says: In the Circuit Court at Lexington the Maple Oil Co. of Flemingsburg through its attorneys, J. M. McIntire and B. S. Grannis, has filed two suits, one for $5,408 against Fletcher Mann and one for $5,746 against C. W. Friend.

The petitions allege in the first suit that E. G. B. Mann, who is a well known minister, as agent for defendant sold to plaintiff one twentieth interest in the Bailey lease in Lee county representing that said lease had a daily oil production of 250 barrels per day where as it had only 81 barrels, and thus damaged plaintiff in the sum of the first suit. In the second suit the same thing is alleged except the damage claimed is as given in the second suit referred to above.

Attorney McIntire was in Lexington Friday and filed the suits, which are the outgrowth of active interest taken in the oil business here some months ago and which in most cases proved a disappointment to those who put in their money. One of the defendants is a brother of Rev. Mann and the other is his brother-in-law.

SENATE PASSES IRONTON BRIDGE BILL.

The House already has passed the bill, and the President's signature will make it a law. The citizens of Ironton will raise the money, $500,000 to build the bridge.

JUDGE LANDIS TO QUIT FEDERAL BENCH FOR BASEBALL JOB

National Baseball Commissioner Will Give Up Federal Bench Report From Chicago Says.

Chicago, May 4. — Kenesaw Mountain Landis will give up his job as judge of the Federal Court here to devote all his time to his position as high baseball commissioner, it was learned authoritatively today.

His resignation, according to present indications, will take effect early in June.

Since an attack was made on him in Congress because he held two positions, the judge has planned to quit the court.

He would not quit under fire, however, and could not leave while impeachment proceedings were pending.

The impression among the judge's friends was that he decided to retire from the bench as soon as he accepted the baseball position. However, the prestige added to his baseball rulings by virtue of his position on the federal bench, caused him to retain the judgeship for a short time.

With resignation of Landis the Federal Court will lose one of its most picturesque characters.

J. B. FURLONG TIPPED FOR COMMISSIONER.

The friends of Mr. J. B. Furlong, prominent Maysvillian and extensive land owner, are handing out the tip that Mr. Furlong will be a candidate for County Commissioner. He is a high type gentleman and his friends would deem it a pleasure to support him in this race.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

THE SONG OF THE SHIRT.

A certain man in Buffalo has sent his shirt to the State Income Tax Bureau, stating that after paying federal, state, county and city taxes, including the automobile license, the dog tax, the school tax and all the rest, he was stripped to the skin.

The plight of this Buffalo citizen will awaken sympathy in innumerable breasts, harassed by the problems of the times in which we live. The cost of government is tremendous, and no doubt more burdensome than is at all necessary. Much has been wasted, many millions have been dissipated through lost motion, there are leaks which long ago should have been stopped, and the tax laws throw the weight too heavily in this direction or that.

At the same time the debts which we are called upon to liquidate were contracted in a mighty effort to safeguard American security, to defend American institutions and to vindicate American principles and ideals.

While it is costing heavily to maintain the government we must not forget that we have, of all governments on earth, the one most worth having and keeping, and a country such as the sun never shone on before since men first began to walk upright and form communities.

It is worth all it costs to live in America even if a man has to give up his last shirt. Better to wear grass around the loins here than to be clothed in purple and fine linen in any other land on the globe. No one wants to be taxed to death, but if it ever came to the point Americans, especially those that have lived or traveled in foreign lands, will be happy to contribute the last shirt to keep the fires of freedom burning on the headlands of our republic that mankind may not sink in the night to utter despair.

THE I. W. W. ESTIMATE OF LAW.

In taking French leave of the United States just as his term in the penitentiary was due to begin William D. Haywood, convicted disloyalist, is perfectly consistent. To the I. W. W. law is a farce, government superfluous and courts a nuisance. Why bother with these guides to and guardians of society when we have the will of communist leaders and the comfort and advice of anarchist director generals to determine the course of the country? No doubt the call of the International was superior in the ears of this apostle of destruction to that of the honest obligation to bondsman or the patriotic appeal of obedience to law.

To this add the natural affinity of Soviet Russia and the Haywood class and the Haywood departure for Moscow, and the midnight realm of riot and ruin, assumes perfectly logical complexion. Of course, law is to be respected and to that end must be enforced—howbeit much law just now is being lost to respect for want of enforcement. None the less, it would be a blessing for America—disguised or otherwise—if all the Haywood and Bergdoll ilk could and did follow these leaders into self-executed commitments to foreign exile. The foreigner the better.

EXIT THE MESSENGER BOY.

The messenger boy is gradually disappearing. The war and subsequent economic difficulties have apparently brought the job to a higher standard of dignity. As a matter of fact there have always been messengers and messengers. We all knew the genial youth either in New York, London, Paris or Petrograd who easily ambled along, reading the latest thriller in between, playing games of chance while our fortunes were in his hands. On the other hand there have been for time immemorial King's messengers, staid gentlemen with important looking dispatch boxes and special diplomatic messengers from one country to another.

Now we find the boy messenger leaving our midst. In London one sees smartly dressed girls clad in the military looking uniform of the General Postal service. In New York City age apparently is no barrier in the messenger service and Father Time has given the messenger in frequent instances white locks and the dignified mien of age. At least the service is not slower than formerly. In Petrograd the abhorred bourgeoisie act as telegraph "boys" and receive the quota of black bread and tea for compensation. A large number of the nobility acts in this capacity.—Exchange.

SETTLING SOME IMPORTANT POINTS.

When Isaac Newton lay under an apple tree one drowsy autumn day and received a bump on his somnolent noodle from a dropping apple something was started. Out of the train of thought then engendered he evolved the theory of gravity, which later was accepted as a law, and the principles of which has controlled science ever since. Instenst was not satisfied with the Newtonian law, and worked out one for himself, presented to the world as the Einstein theory of relativity. It involves the fourth dimension, which its author presents as time, and on which he bases his argument. Following his lead, another eminent observer suggests that possibly there are other dimensions which must be given due weight, and so the problem is expanding rather than contracting. Now comes the Philosophical Society, in session at Philadelphia, and shoes both Newton and Einstein out of the arena, with a new theory that has for its substratum the proposition that gravitation does not affect all substances alike. One recorded experiment shows a variation of one twenty-millionth part. This is not a great deal, even on the end of one's nose, but when dealing with such bodies as Betelgeuse, where mass is considered and weight must be determined from that, such a divergence amounts to something. However, the discussion is still open, and pending the determination ordinary mortals will rest safe in their conviction that whatever goes up must come down, cost of living to the contrary notwithstanding. —Omaha Bee.

New York Letter

New York. — So large has the number of bob-haired maidens — and matrons, too — that a wheel special lot of millinery has had to be created for them. New York shops are devoting special sections to grown-ups' hats in childrens' sizes in order to fit those uncoiffured heads. They look sort of amusing in the windows until one gets accustomed to them, as though they were intended for big French dolls; but it does seem good to see the devotees of bobbed hair in some things that do not bob all over their smooth round heads.

The baby buggy garage is the latest simplifier of life's daily troubles. They are a Brooklyn innovation and so far haven't crossed the river to Manhattan, but they'll soon arrive, undoubtedly. There are a lot more babies in Brooklyn, which probably speeded their day. And the getting of baby-carriages up and down in apartment elevators — or worse, the stairs, — was one of the things that gave parents that worn and worried look so often noted. An enterprising Brooklynite solved the problem by opening a "parking store" in one district of particularly large apartment houses. For a small amount each week, he "stores" the perambulators when they are not in use. All that hubby has to do is to call for the "car" in the morning, trundle it around to the house and leave the rest to his wife.

How IS a woman to escape being beautiful much longer? Clever men and women who knew the importance of the matter started in giving us new complexions, lustrous hair, more pounds or less pounds whichever we needed. Pretty nearly everything in the world had been done to improve us. But there was one old girl who still had an advantage bestowed by nature which the beauty doctors could not rival. Who has not envied her of the lovely eyelashes! And now they've made us all her peers! Artificial eyelashes, delicate things which fit perfectly in place in an instant and can be swept upward with all the fascination at one's command are the latest beautifier of New York women. C. Nestle, originator of permanent waving, "invented" them and has been giving regular matinee demonstrations to eager but slightly-lashed ladies at his parlors on East 49th street. Those thin lashes are not only unattractive but physicians say they cause eye-strain from dust and sun and too bright electric lights. So there's more than vanity in their victims' interest. Aside from the women whose lashes never would grow, they have made a tremendous hit with stage people. There is a special kind for them, all headed and "blued" so that their own lashes and eyelids can be kept nice and clean of all grease paint and make-up. Talk about the days of romance being over! When you can get a curling paid of eyelashes for a dollar, how CAN romance die?

In spite of the inroads steam has made upon the picturesque side of sea-life, there is still a fascination about the docks where the other side of the world is brought to ours, and some tremendously interesting bits are to be gleaned there. An officer of the Clan Murdoch, which was in with tea and rubber sat watching the unloading here the other day. "It's caste and not work that's wearing on these freighters," he mused, and then explained. "You see the crew's Lascar. And of course you know there are castes among all East Indians. We never do get to the bottom of it. There are seven of them on board the ship. They won't — can't — eat together. One steward who fills your bowl with hot water will not empty it. It's against his caste. And so it goes. And when a boatswain is of lower caste than some man under him, the complicated ceremonial are way past an accidental untangling. However, they're an honest lot and we stand aside and try to let them look after their caste without interference."

The flat-foot has come into a place of distinction in one place anyhow, however much it has been the butt of scorn and jokes. That's on the dance floor. In a new step just being introduced on Broadway the "flatfoot" foot comes away with all honors. There's a pushing gliding gait to it that is almost impossible for the arched instep of the one-time envy.

It was indeed a revelrous-appearing afternoon the other day just off Broadway, on Forty-fifth street, when "The Day Man" was moved from one theater to another. Grant Mitchell and his company were playing "The Champion" just across the street from the place Holbrook Blinn and his "Bad Man" were moving to, so they gave them a reception in the middle of the street. As Holbrook and his company were bravely attired in their dashing Mexican outfits, the theatrical "block party" created quite a sensation among the innocent passersby.

It took Ehrlich 606 experiments to discover a way to give a man arsenic enough to kill syphilis germs in his blood without running the risk of killing him. He called the result 6-0-6 or "salvarsan." In this country the United States government supervises its production through the Hygienic Laboratory of the Public Health Service and calls it arphenamine.

INTERSCHOLASTIC FIELD MEET IS BEING ARRANGED

Schools of Kentucky Are Asked to Participate in State-Wide Athletic Event Soon To Be Held.

The interscholastic tournament for the accredited high schools of the state will be held at the University of Kentucky May 6 and 7. The program for the debates has just been announced at the University. The state has been divided into seven districts and each district will send a team to the university. The districts are Central Kentucky District, Northern Kentucky District, Eastern Kentucky District, Southeastern Kentucky District, Louisville District, Henderson-Owensboro District, and Paducah District. The district contests have been held all over the state during the last month, and it is expected that the district winners will be announced soon. The finals in the Central Kentucky District are to be held at Lexington on Monday, May 2. The following schools are expected to have teams in the district contest: Lexington High School, Clark County High School, Winchester High School, Stanton College Academy, Asbury College Academy, Anderson County High School, and Richmond High School. Already Model High School of Eastern State Normal has been eliminated by Richmond and Frankfort High School has been eliminated by Lexington High School. The district tournament is expected to be hotly contested for the district championship. The various winning teams from each of the seven districts are expected to meet at the university on Friday, May 6, to battle for the All-State Championship. The debates will begin at 9:30 a. m., May 6, and the contests will open with a debate between Central Kentucky and Louisville districts. At the same hour is scheduled a debate between the Owensboro-Henderson district and Paducah district and also a debate between the Northern Kentucky district and the Southeastern Kentucky districts. The first preliminaries being over, the winner of the contest between the Northeastern and Southeastern districts will debate the winner of the Northern Kentucky District. The winner of this latter contest will debate the winner of the Central-Louisville contest. This will reduce the teams to two and the winner of the last mentioned contest will debate the winner of the Owensboro-Paducah contest in the finals for the All-State championship.

All the debates except the finals will be private and the teams concerned will not be admitted to hear the others debate. Three sets of judges will sit at the debates. The finals are to be held in the University chapel at 7:30 p. m., Friday evening, May 6. The student body of the University is planning a reception for the visiting teams. The Booster Club of the University — a student organization made up of representatives from all other organizations in the University — has taken matters in charge and will arrange for the entertainment of the visitors. The various clubs and other organizations representing the various sections of the state will array themselves in line for "rooting" for their home teams. It is expected that the visitors will be received as never before.

Plans are now being made by the University Boosters to take care of the large number of visitors expected. The visiting teams will be entertained at a dinner in the University Armory on the evening of May 6.

The interscholastic track tournament is to be held also on Friday and Saturday, the track tournament beginning at 4 o'clock p. m., Friday and continuing in the finals on Saturday.

AFTERNOON, MAY 7.

The winner of the essay writing contest will also be announced on the evening of May 6. Ninety-four essays from forty accredited high schools have been sent to the University and are now being read by a committee from the University faculty. The winner of this contest is to receive a gold medal and a silver cup is to go to the school represented by the winner.

AT A MOTHERS' MEETING

The wife of a noted New York divine said to her listeners, "Watch carefully your daughter's physical development. Mothers should keep their daughters well informed as to matters pertaining to health, and should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its offices."

Irregularities and pain are warning symptoms of some trouble, and mothers may depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to correct them, and restore the system to a healthy normal condition.

THE PUBLIC MUST PAY.

The Snell Bill is the first forward united step on this great question of a national forest policy and after all the public is vastly more interested, or should be, than any class or business in the country, says "The Banker-Farmer." It is the public that pays for a forest fire loss of about $25,000,000 every year. It is the public that pays for the millions of idle acres that should be producing forest crops. Will the public wake up and join the American Forestry Association in fighting for this important economic measure?

NEAR EIGHT THOUSAND FOR CHURCHES, WILL PROVIDE.

Louisville, Ky. — After payment of cash bequests aggregating $2,100, the remainder of the estate of Mrs. A. Helen Jones, was left to the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky by her will. Mrs. Jones specified that the bequest be used toward the erection of houses of worship. The estate is in personality valued at $10,000.

MOTHER'S DAY

THIS YEAR IS MAY 9th

Of all the ways of remembering one's Mother it is very doubtful if any surpasses that of sending her a message in the form of a Greeting Card. It is surprising when one realizes that the thirty or forty manufacturers of Greeting Cards last year sold to dealers, who in turn sold them to sons and daughters, in the vicinity of ten million cards. Think of the sunshine that was brought into the hearts of all the Mothers who were the recipients of tender messages on Mother's Day morning. Remember your Mother this year with a Greeting Card.

GOMPERS ENDORSES WORK OF SALVATION ARMY IN AMERICA

Head of Labor Organization Praises Splendid Work of the Salvation Army's Agents.

Brigadier Herbert Roberts, Divisional Commander of the Salvation Army for Western Ohio and Kentucky, who is supervising the work of organizing a financial campaign for the Army in this vicinity, has just been notified that Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, has given his unqualified indorsement of the campaign. Mr. Gompers wrote Brigadier Roberts as follows:

"Although a score of matters of transcendent importance were before me, I concentrated long enough on the great work of this organization to renew in my mind the many first-hand evidences coming under my observation of the service rendered by them. "From doughnuts to the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, their work, both over there during the war and here during time of peace seems to approach the welfare of men here and now rather than deal altogether with the sweet bye and bye.

"This work among those burdened down under the crushing weight and pain of misfortune and sickness is just simply service without pretense—just good practical service to mankind. In my judgment, the Salvation Army deserves every encouragement for the service they have rendered and are rendering."

Representatives of the Salvation Army will form Community Advisory Boards to determine the financial needs of each locality and how to raise the money. These boards, composed of leading citizens, will be the judges of the communities' needs, while the expert Salvationists will at all times volunteer to lend their expert services, which they demonstrated during the World War, in solving each individual social problem. The Salvation Army plans to extend its Home Service program for 1921 from the cities to small towns and the country, in an effort to reach every home in the nation that needs its aid.

KENTUCKY'S TOBACCO GROWING RECORD DEFENDED BY STANLEY
Washington, May 4. — Senators A. O. Stanley and Lee S. Overman had a spirited debate in the Senate Tuesday regarding the production of tobacco in their respective states. Senator Overman made the statement that North Carolina raised more tobacco than any other state, and Senator Stanley was on his feet in an instant in defense of Kentucky. He showed from official figures that Kentucky grows about 500,000,000 pounds out of a total of 1,300,000,000 grown in the entire country.

Senator Overman good naturedly admitted that he did not know just how much was grown in North Carolina, but that he would at least claim second place for that state, and Senator Stanley let it go at that.

BIG REDUCTION IN SALARIES ANNOUNCED

Steel Corporation Announces Wage Cut of Approximately 20 Per Cent, Effective May 16.

New York, May 4. — A reduction of about twenty per cent. in wages for day labor, effective on May 16, and an equitable adjustment of other rates, including salaries, at the plants of the United States Steel Corporation was announced Tuesday night by Elbert H. Gary, Chairman of the corporation's Board of Directors. It is estimated that between 150,000 and 175,000 employees of the corporation will be affected by the cut.

Mr. Gary also said that the corporation had been unable to find a practicable basis for the entire abandonment of the twelve-hour day, or turn, in the immediate future. He also said that the twelve-hour shift already had been eliminated in certain departments and that efforts would be continued with the expectation of entirely eliminating this feature within the next year. Mr. Gary expressed the opinion that he did not believe the corporation could satisfy the employees with any shorter limit.

On the basis of the reduction last night corporation officials estimated the average cut in wages at approximately $1.40 a day per man. Roughly this will affect a reduction in the payroll, calculated on the present number of employees of not less than $150,000,000 annually.

Behind that Electric Light there's Life!

FOLLOW back along the little rubber-covered wires, out of your house, over the poles or through the underground "mains" and you will find a whirling, singing power house—peopled with near-human machines and very human men.

Here men feed the fires beneath the blistering boilers; here men start, stop and care for the roaring turbines and purring generators while other men keep ever-watchful eyes on instruments and switchboards; in short, here in this little-known little-visited Power House, men are supplying the brain and brawn which helps to assure you of continuous Electric Service.

Visit your Power House in reality, some day. It will be an hour or two well spent and you'll take away, we believe, a better appreciation of the human side of a great industry—your Central Station.
